 - SAMR
 - Universal Design for learning
 - Research
- FL in action
- Introducing the FLIPPED IMPACT model
 - Wrapping up
- Questions

Learning Outcome

At the end of this session you will have a clear idea how Flipped Learning can contribute to inclusive learning. In addition you will have a general understanding how to select, design and implement flipped learning materials

The Flipped Classroom

Definition

Definition of Flipped Learning

Flipped Learning is a pedagogical approach in which direct instruction moves from the group learning space to the individual learning space, and the resulting group space is transformed into a dynamic, interactive learning environment where the educator guides students as they apply concepts and engage creatively in the subject matter.

AFFECTIVE NETWORKS:
THE WHY OF LEARNING

Engagement

For purposeful, motivated learners, stimulate interest and motivation for learning.

RECOGNITION NETWORKS:
THE WHAT OF LEARNING

Representation

For resourceful, knowledgeable learners, present information and content in different ways.

STRATEGIC NETWORKS:
THE HOW OF LEARNING

Action & Expression

For strategic, goal-directed learners, differentiate the ways that students can express what they know.

Added Value

Substitution

Tech acts as a direct tool substitute, with no functional change.

cup of coffee

Augmentation

Tech acts as a direct tool substitute, with functional improvement.

latte

Modification

Tech allows for significant task redesign.

*caramel
macchiato*

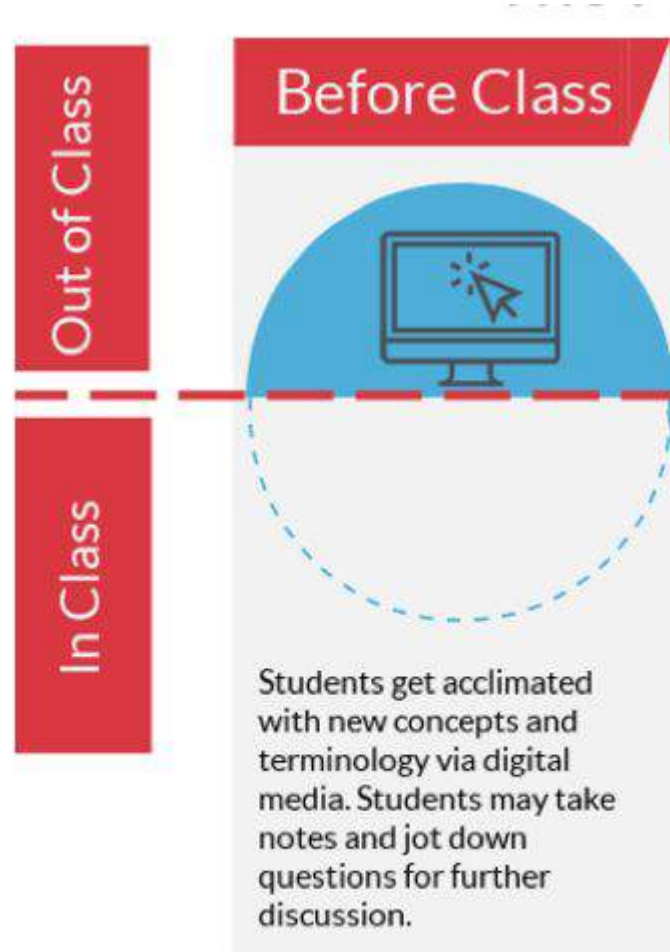

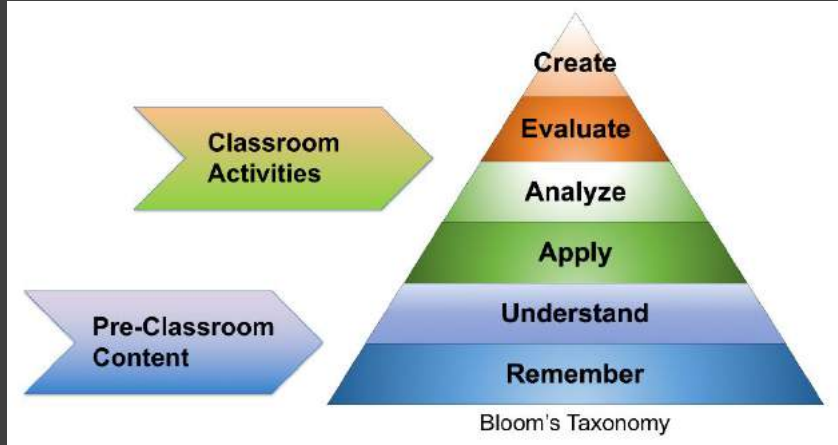

Redefinition

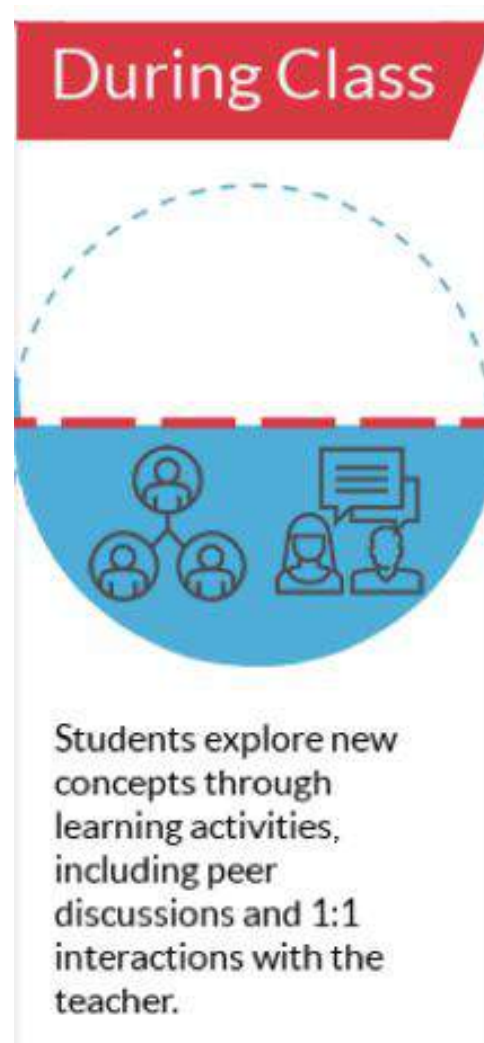

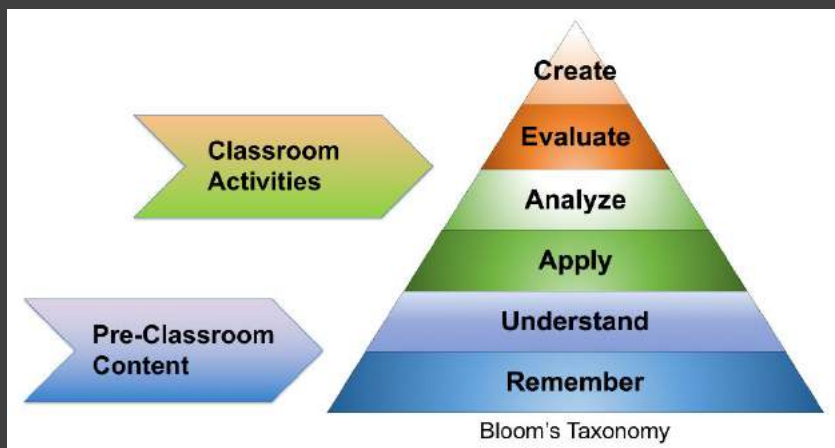

Tech allows for the creation of new tasks, previously inconceivable.

pumpkin spice

= the past tense
= interactive video via Edpuzzle

- Discussions about past holiday
- Presentations about historical events
- Drama and performance
- Peer feedback on presentations
- Teacher feedback idem

N = 82

- There is not enough learning material
- The amount is just right
- There is too much learning material

- From our baseline questionnaire (n = 283)

Some conclusions :

- The what of learning is explained : 40%
- The why of learning is explained : 48%
- The how of learning is explained : 33%
- Large variations in motivation
- Large variation in how students like to learn
- 61% of the students think English at school is interesting

Flipped learning in teacher education

Learning outcome for preservice teachers

You design, develop and test an online Flipped Classroom course for your subject. Your product is UDL-based and facilitates place- and time independent learning by your students.

Your prototype includes a teacher manual with instructions regarding fitting classroom activities to complement the learning activities the students have done at home on the basis of your online course.

- Purposeful

Flexible

Online and physical spaces where students have different options in terms of difficulty, format and interest

Learner oriented

The individual learner is the focus of the design of Flipped Learning.

Google Forms

Interactive

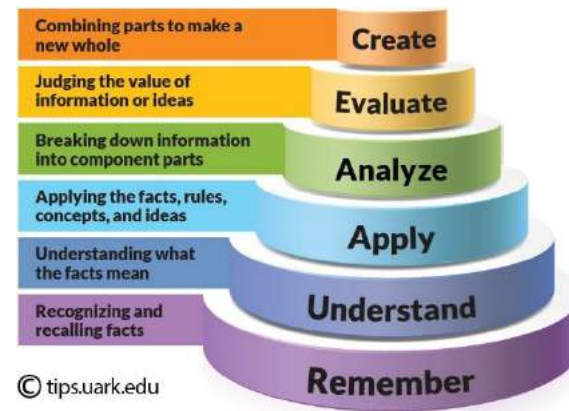

Stimulate engagement and participation by all.

Purposeful

Clear info about goals and organization are available for the students online and beforehand
